CAMPBELL NAMED.

Ohio Democrats Nominate Him by Acclamation,

REGARDLESS OF HIS DECLINATION.

Rules Suspended While His Speech Declaring the Honor Still Vibrates the Air, and the Ex-Governor Chosen with Unanimity—Silver Men Beaten on Every Point Except the Seating of the Cleveland Delegation—Political Notes.

SPRINGFIELD, Aug. 22.—The ticket nominated by the Democratic state convention is as follows: Governor, James E. Campbell, Butler county; lieutenant governor, John B. Peaslee, Hamilton county; auditor, James W. Knott, Richland county; treasurer, William Scholer, Gallia county; supreme judge, William T. Moorey, Augusta county; attorney general, George A. Fairbanks, Franklin county; member of board of public works, Harry B. Keefe, Tuscarawas county; clerk of the supreme court, J. W. Cruikshank, Miami county. The convention made all its nominations without opposition. It was in session from 10:30 till 2:45, and the nominations were completed in a half hour after ex-Governor Campbell had been drafted for the standard bearer. The ballots were all on the minority report on credentials and resolutions, and the time was mostly consumed in the contests between the gold and the silver men.

Gold Men the Best Figures.
The gold men, headed by Brice, had claimed that there would be less than 300 and probably not more than 250 of the 818 delegates vote for free silver. The silver men claimed that they would have more than 300, and probably 350 delegates for free silver. It developed that there were 270 free silver delegates. It was a fighting minority, but it did not carry the fight further than to the platform. The nominees for member of the board of public works is said to be the only free silver man on the state ticket, although the silver lines were not drawn on the candidates. There was considerable enthusiasm over the nomination of Campbell. He defeated ex-Governor Foraker in 1893, and was defeated for reelection as governor in 1891 by William McKinley, Jr., the present incumbent.

Makes It a National Fight.
The nomination of Campbell means an aggressive campaign in Ohio, where McKinley is now recognized as a candidate for president and Foraker for senator, the fact of both depending largely upon the pending contest between Campbell and Bushnell for governor. It is generally understood that Governor Campbell was induced to make the race by promises of support for the presidential nomination in the event of his success next November, in which campaign he would confront his old opponent—McKinley, should the latter be nominated. And in cooperation with Brice for a Democratic legislature Campbell is again confronting his old opponent—Foraker. Although Brice is also known to have presidential aspirations it is the generally accepted theory that Brice and Campbell have reached an understanding to contest everything in Ohio with McKinley and Foraker, who have everything at stake on the election of General Bushnell.

Shelvers the Silver Question in Ohio.
It is thought that the contest between these old leaders in Ohio will overshadow the currency question and other issues. There is little difference between the Republican and Democratic platforms on silver; the currency question is not generally believed to be one of the issues in Ohio, but the tariff will be kept prominent, as the parties differ widely on that issue. Governor Campbell called on his friends last night before leaving, and with Senator Brice and others arranged for beginning at once an aggressive campaign, in which they expect the cooperation of leading Democrats throughout the country.

Routine of the Convention.
The convention was called to order by Chairman Brice, who presided in both temporary and permanent organization, and received an ovation when he took the chair. He made a speech that was devoted principally to claiming that the Democracy was on the eve of victory again and counseling harmony. He eulogized Cleveland as the greatest statesman and party leader of his time, and was frequently applauded. When it came to organizing all the Brice delegates were seated except those from Cayahoga county. Representative Hurd read the resolutions, which on the finances reaffirm the national platform of 1892, and the minority of the committee had a free silver report, which was rejected by a vote of 523 to 273. The majority report was then adopted with a hurrah.

Campbell Had to Run.
There can be no mistake about the currency plank, for Brice and his lieutenants have given it out that the 1892 plank means the gold standard, and is so interpreted by the national administration. When it came to nominations Campbell took the floor and declined in advance what he knew was awaiting him, but a motion to suspend the rules and nominate him by acclamation prevailed, and he was nominated almost unanimously. He made a brief speech, thanking his friends for the honor and accepting the same as something that could not be declined. The rest of the ticket went through easily, and the convention had adjourned sine die before 3 p. m.

POPULISTS OF MARYLAND MEET.
Socialist and Anti-Socialist Elements Develop in the Convention.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 22.—At the Maryland Populist convention Rev. Walter Vrooman, representing the Socialistic element in the convention, accused N. A. Dunning, editor of The Watchman, the national organ of the Labor party, of coming to the convention to prevent the nomination of a ticket. Dunning responded that he had said exactly that, and the old parties were so strongly entrenched that it was useless to nominate a Populist ticket.

It developed that Dunning headed the element favorable to a plank for free coinage of silver at 16 to 1, while Rev. Vrooman represented the element favorable to government ownership of railways, telegraphs, etc., along socialistic lines. The discussion brought out that Delegate Burchard had written a letter favorable to the Republican state ticket.

The convention adopted the Omaha platform and declared against free silver. The ticket nominated is as follows: For governor, Henry T. Andrews, of Caroline county; attorney general, B. W. Monett, of Calvert county; comptroller, S. H. Gibson, of Crisfield, Somerset county.

DEMOCRATS OF NEBRASKA.
Double Delegation Likely To Be Sent to the National Convention.

OMAHA, Aug. 22.—The Democratic state convention will convene in Omaha today at 2 p. m. Since all opponents of free silver in the party will hold a convention Sept. 5, it is concluded that there will be no fight along this line today. There has been a pretty fight between the two factions ever since the first convention. After the election in which the silver wing, by the nomination of Judge Holcomb for governor, came out victorious, there was a let-up in the fight, and for a time it seemed to die out and result in a reunion of the party in the state.

In fact steps were taken for a conference with this object in view. Recently, however, the peace negotiations fell through and the fight was renewed. It is charged by some anti-administration men that the recent visit of Secretary Morton had something to do with this change. This fight, in the opinion of the free silver Democrats, is part of a plan to send double delegations to the national convention in 1896.

"Sound Money" Literary Bureau.
CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—The literary bureau of the Democratic party of Illinois, which Ben Cable and a few other leaders recently organized, has found quarters in a fine suite of rooms in the Owens building. R. E. Spangler is in charge, and a circular letter is in the course of preparation which will be mailed to such party leaders throughout the state as are not suspected of being for free silver. The letter will be the first step toward lining up the men in the party who are for "sound money." The next move will be in the direction of organization.

The Silver Democratic Fight.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Senator Harris of Tennessee, who is one of the leaders in the movement to secure a free silver platform and candidate at the next Democratic national convention, said that he did not believe in wasting much time over free silver in the next congress, and also was of a like opinion as to suggestions of an international monetary conference. The silver Democrats' fight, he said, will be for the control of the next national convention.

Resolved Against Don Cameron.
WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Aug. 22.—At the Republican county convention held here resolutions were adopted in which the Republicans of Lycoming county say they are "opposed to the reelection of J. Donald Cameron as senator from Pennsylvania, believing that his views on various public questions, notably the money question, are not in accord with the prevailing belief of the party."

Silver at the 16-to-1 Ratio.
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—At the bi-monthly convention of the report of the committee on resolutions was unanimously adopted. It declares for free silver at the ratio of 16 to 1.

DAN MANNING'S DAUGHTER WEDS.
Her Husband a Hollander of Quite Exalted Degree.

ALBANY, Aug. 22.—In the Cathedral of All Saints occurred the wedding of Mary Elizabeth Manning, youngest daughter of the late secretary of the treasury, Daniel Manning, and Jules Cornelius von der Oudemulen, son of the private secretary of Queen Wilhelmina of Holland. The wedding was quiet because of the absence of any of Mr. von der Oudemulen's family. The bride was attended by Miss DeLoanty, and the groom by Frederick C. Manning.

A wedding breakfast was served after the ceremony at the residence of John DeLoanty. Later in the day the bridal couple left for New York and on Saturday will sail for Holland. When they reach the Hague a social wedding ceremony will be performed by the burgomaster of the city. The bride will then be introduced at court.

BULL FIGHT THAT WILL COME OFF.
Over Five Thousand Tickets Sold to the Gilted, Colo., Show.

CHRYSLER CREEK, Aug. 22.—Every available space throughout the district is covered with posters announcing the coming bull fight at Gillet, where sixty carpenters are putting the finishing touches on the bull ring. The troupe of Mexican bull fighters have arrived, and others will be on hand by Saturday, as they have left the City of Mexico.

J. H. Wolfe, the projector of the fight, said: "We have already sold over 5,000 tickets, and do not believe that 100 of the number went into the hands of the miners. I have seen Governor McIntyre and the sheriff of this county and believe that both are convinced that nothing of a cruel nature will be displayed in the arena. The fight is coming off and there will be no interference on the part of the law officers."

Gov. Jackson Reviews His Troops.
WAVERLY, La., Aug. 22.—Governor Jackson and staff reviewed the troops at Camp Prime yesterday. Fully 10,000 visitors were on the ground and witnessed the evolutions of the brigade, which showed wonderful proficiency. Among the visitors were a number of regular army officers from Fort Omaha, who expressed themselves as pleased with the high standing of the Iowa National Guard.

Burial of Justice Strong.
READING, Pa., Aug. 22.—The body of the late ex-Justice William Strong was buried in the Charles Evans cemetery in the family lot, alongside the remains of his two wives late yesterday afternoon. Impressive services were held in the cemetery chapel by Rev. Dr. Tunnicliffe Hamilton, of the Covenant Presbyterian church, Washington.

MOBBED A MADMAN.

Lynch Spirit Causes Another Disgrace to Ohio.

NEGRO MURDERER HUNG TO A TREE

Victim of the Popular Judge Kills a Prominent Citizen at Noon and Is Dead by 4 p. m., Nevertheless He Was "Not Right in His Mind"—Lynch Mob Excused on the Ground of Popular Temporary Insanity, Apparently.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 22.—At New Richmond, O., twenty-five miles up the Ohio river from Cincinnati, at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, a mob took Noah Anderson, colored, from the jail and hanged him for the murder of a few hours previous of Franklin Friedman, nearly 50 years old and president of the First National bank of that place. Friedman was among the wealthiest men in Clermont county. He owned a number of farms and lived at Clermontville, about two miles from New Richmond. He was driving into New Richmond shortly after noon, when he stopped at one of his houses. Hitching his horse at the dooryard he went into an adjoining field, where he was suddenly attacked by Noah Anderson, a muscular negro, who had no weapons but his hands.

Choked the Old Man to Death.
With these he quickly bore the aged banker to the earth and then, clutching his throat with the power of a demon, he literally choked his helpless victim to death. When satisfied that the man was dead Anderson fled. Soon the prostrate man was borne to the house and found to be past all help—dead. The news of the shocking tragedy traveled swiftly, for everybody knew Friedman. It was not long until Anderson was captured and taken to the New Richmond jail, where a great crowd quickly gathered. Anderson made no attempt to conceal his crime. He gloatingly told all the details and said he had given the old man what he deserved.

Murderer Was Probably Insane.
It is said that Anderson was not right in his mind, and that one of his hallucinations was that Friedman had deprived him of a large sum of money. The truth is that the two men had no dealings together, as Anderson came to New Richmond on a shanty boat only a few months ago and claimed to be a paper hanger. The crowd about the jail became wildly excited. The negro's confession became known, and cries of "lynch him!" "lynch him!" arose. A posse was brought. Prominent citizens addressed the mob, imploring moderation. Anderson was in his cell on his knees, crying for mercy. The marshal, when a momentary lull came, attempted to take Anderson to a more secure jail at Batavia, the county seat.

Let Them Reason Temporarily.
No sooner did the man appear outside the jail than the frenzied mob rushed at the marshal and seizing the prisoner bore him quickly to the nearest tree and in a brief time he was dead. There was no masking, no attempt at concealment. Every person present knew all the details. It was simply an act of frenzy, under most aggravating circumstances. The murdered man was endeared to every citizen, and his taking off was so sudden that his friends and neighbors seemed to have lost their reason.

NOT A SUCCESSFUL ENTERPRISE.
Bandits Who Robbed the Train in Nebraska Get Only $100 in Cash.

OMAHA, Aug. 22.—Union Pacific train No. 8, which was held up by express robbers east of Omaha, was held up at Omaha two hours and ten minutes late. If the news of the occurrence had not preceded it the appearance of the express car was sufficient to show that something unusual had occurred. The dynamite explosion had blown all the windows from the car and through the openings could be seen shattered interior. The floor was littered with bits of glass and splinters and the safes, trunks and other articles all bore evidence of the tremendous force of the explosion.

The big safe at one side in which the dynamite had been piled was badly mangled. The top was cracked in several directions and one big rent near the center indicated the spot where the explosive had been placed. The force of the explosion, however, was not sufficient to afford access to the interior. Express Messenger Thomas McCarl was engaged in making up his report. According to his statement the robbers did not get over $100 for their trouble. They had sacked the way safe, but failed to get inside of the large safe which contained the most valuable packages.

Conductor Flynn says that the robbers undoubtedly boarded the train at Brady's Island. They laid low until the train reached the second curve in the sand hills, when they climbed over the tender and leveled their revolvers at the engineer and fireman and compelled them to stop the train. Then they ordered the engineer to cut the train behind the express car, but he protested that he could not undo the coupling, and this was abandoned. Then they took him to the north door of the express car and ordered him to call to the messenger to open the door.

The engineer told the messenger that they carried Winchester and would blow the top of his head off unless the door was opened. Conductor Flynn thinks that the escape of the fireman with the engine alarmed the robbers and caused them to leave before they had completed their work.

The horses of the robbers have been captured, and it is believed here that the bandits are surrounded. Forty well-armed men are in pursuit, and a fight is expected.

Fend Results in Double Murder.
WHITESBORO, Ky., Aug. 22.—Will Gilbert and James Oates, brothers-in-law, were killed in a hand-to-hand battle at the village of Keystone, in Mingo county, W. Va., near the Kentucky line, by James Strauss. The encounter was the result of a family feud, which had its origin ten years or more ago.
